

INFORMATION SERIES

Load Testing Services

Will Your Web App Pass the Stress Test?

How will your web application hold up under pressure? And how much will it cost you to find out? While it's always been critical to track your application's performance under heavy stress, many software firms have found traditional load testing tools and services are prohibitively expensive and don't match the experiences of real world users – until now.

With more than 20,000 testers from 160+ countries around the world, uTest is a one-stop shop for all your software testing needs – both functional testing and load testing. We enable software companies to test the real-world performance of their web applications, so they can launch with confidence. Unlike traditional load testing firms, uTest performs load testing by combining the benefits of synthetic load testing tools with real live testers – and for a fraction of the cost of traditional load testing firms.

Types of Load Testing

No two software companies or apps are the same - and neither are their load testing needs. This is why uTest offers several types of load & performance testing services, including:

- Live Load: A team of live testers from around the globe will hit your application simultaneously, enabling us to help you measure performance without the expense or limitations of synthetic load tools.
- Simulated Load: Requiring no live testers, our simulated load testing tools create real browser sessions to provide you with a complete snapshot of your web application's performance.
- Hybrid Load: Combining live testers with simulated load, our hybrid solution enables you to receive functional testing (exploratory testing or completing test cases) while your web application is under load.

How to get started:

A dedicated uTest project manager will be there to help you every step of the way – from planning and defining requirements, to selecting testers and executing your load tests. You're under enough pressure to launch on schedule, don't let testing become a bottleneck.

On the importance of load testing:

"As a business owner, you never want the public telling you there's a problem with your web application – it has to be determined beforehand. uTest allowed us to achieve complete testing coverage before our launch - and they did it for half the cost of an outsourcing firm." - Michael Weisman, VP of Technology, Recall Media Group

Tell Me More

To find out more about our unique load testing solutions - included prices for individual test cycles – be sure to contact one of our testing gurus by email or by phone at 1.800.445.3914.